

Invitation

Dear lecturers, researchers, and scholars. Today, Vietnam, like other countries, is facing a lot of new problems related to the management and protection of personal data. In particular, in the context of the digital era, scientific and technological advances have crept into every corner of human society.

With the desire to pose for discussion, exchange, and research on an issue that is not new but very current in the country, the Faculty of Law - Hanoi Open University plans to organize a conference: "The law on personal data protection in the digital era: International experience and practice in Vietnam today"

The Organizing Committee invites delegates to write articles and attend the seminar to discuss issues from theory to practice of the law protecting personal data. At the same time, share international perspectives and experiences to have assessments and lessons for Vietnam.

For the preparation to be thoughtful, we invite you to confirm your participation, or give a speech, or send an article to the organizers. Participating, speaking, and writing is paid according to current regulations of Hanoi Open University.

Detailed information about the article's rules and the main content of the conference is in the attached document.

Sincerely thank you.
